(Note: Below is a copy of an email received on 9/8/06, from Nelson Eisman, Governor Candidate.)

Jean,

I propose to expand BadgerCare to offer the full complement of health services to everyone. Universal health care will help drive our economy and allow businesses to add jobs. I also propose using a progressive income tax to fully fund state services, including education from pre-school to post-doctorate and vocational training. This will develop the workforce that will compete successfully with anyone in the world.

In 1971 I came to Madison to observe the Sustaining Fund. I was a volunteer on the Small, Alternative and Minority Business Development Committee, which was sponsored by the federal Small Business Administration. At that time Madison and Ithaca, New York had volunteer taxation to help fund small, alternative businesses, such as coops. I was so impressed with Madison and the people of Wisconsin that I moved here.

Thanks,
Nelson

Subject: Questions for Nelson Eisman
To: info@voteeisman.org

According to the 2003 U.S. Census data for the state of Wisconsin, over 400,000 people work for a business organization with less than 5 employees (including nonemployer firms), and over 500,000 people work for a business organization with less than 10 employees (again, including nonemployer firms).

1. If you are elected, do you have any plans regarding how you are going to help these extremely small or microbusinesses in Wisconsin?

2. Could you give at least one example of what you have accomplished in the past to specifically help microbusinesses in Wisconsin?

Unless you indicate otherwise, I will assume that I have your permission to publish your responses in a newsletter/email to my customers, and also on my website.

Thank you for your time!

Sincerely,

Jean Wiegand
